Benet  CSB's alumnæ publication from 1942-1969.  Or view all of CSB's digitized alumnae publications.

Community (＆Connections)  Community, 1969-1993 and 2000-2009, and Connections, 1993-2000, were print newsletters for the CSB/SJU campuses (initially for SJU only).  Print issues are available in the CSB and SJU Archives.  In 2006 Community was continued as an electronic-only publication, e-Community (see below).

CSB Catalog  Selected issues have been digitized thus far.  Included are academic catalogs from the 1980s (from St. Benedict's Academy, i.e. high school), 1916, 1946, 1956, and 1980s.  (NOTE: All of the pre-1961 editions are available on the Monastery's  Minnesota Reflections  site.)  Beginning in 1997, CSB's and SJU's Catalogs were increasingly issued jointly; the joint issues can be found online with the Saint John's University Catalog. The current CSB/SJU catalog is also online.

FOR IN THE SUBL

1673 February, what it is still called and known in St. Joseph, eighteen students from St. Joseph's will leave for the French Riviera to spend an "Educational Experience".

Mr. G. J. Piffato, assistant professor of French at the college, will accompany the students on a two-week tour of France. Each student will receive language materials that will aid them in their study of French. They will participate in a variety of cultural activities.

Engagement with the local people is essential to the students' growth and development. During the tour, the students will have opportunities to interact with French-speaking locals and gain cultural insights.

The French Riviera is only the beginning of their journey. Another program in different locations in France and similar programs in St. Gallen, Switzerland and Scotland are planned for later in the year.

IN the STEAMSCAPES and BEYOND

Due to the large number of available Prebys, the Prebys' Foundation made available $354,350 in grants to students who submitted their applications as early as possible. The grants were awarded on a first-come, first-served basis.

The admissions office has received over 1,000 applications and is currently reviewing them. The deadline for submitting applications is February 1. This deadlines is for ensuring the selection process is fair and unbiased.

On February 1 is the deadline for submitting the payment due to the admissions office. The payment must be made by February 1 to secure the available seats.

All applicants who have not been notified by this date may consider their application denied. We encourage all applicants to submit their applications as early as possible to ensure their place in the program.

Symposium for Alumnae Members is Outstanding Event at St. Benedicts

College Presents Elephants Two-day Program for Delightful Audience from Millennium Chapter.

Poet Presents Gift to College

Carl Sandburg, one of America's outstanding poets, presented the College of St. Benedict two personally autographed volumes for Christmas. They were his collection of poems, "Good Morning America" and his study "Abraham Lincoln: The Prairie Years." Carl Sandburg was a guest at the College's day and half at the opening of the college term when he read his poems to a delighted audience. His presentation of his volumes personally autographed is but one more indication of a genuinely warm friendship formed at that time.
Time to Renew Old Friendships Is Promised To All Homecomers

"Visiting Homecoming," the committee has labeled this year's annual event on May 27 and 28, according to reports of plans made by the committee.

The return of homecoming has been a tradition at St. Joseph's High School, and this year will be no different. The annual event will feature a variety of activities to bring back memories of high school days.

The event will begin on May 27 with a welcome reception at the school. This will be followed by a dinner and dance at the local community center.

On May 28, there will be a breakfast and a tour of the school, followed by a reunion dinner at the dock.

The theme of the event is "Return to the Past," and the committee is excited about the turnout. "We are looking forward to seeing everyone again," said one member of the committee.

The committee would like to extend a special invitation to all former students and their families to attend the event.

In April 19, Catholic University's theology professors were assembled at the annual meeting of the American Catholic Historical Association held in Washington, D.C. The central theme of the meeting was the role of the Catholic Church in public life.

The University's President, Dr. John Deisher, addressed the gathering, explaining the importance of the Church's role in society. He emphasized the need for dialogue and cooperation between the Church and other sectors of society.

The meeting also featured several presentations on various topics, including the history of American Catholicism, the role of the Church in education, and the challenges faced by Catholic institutions in the current political climate.

The meeting concluded with a panel discussion on the future of Catholic education in the United States, with experts from various institutions sharing their insights and perspectives.

The University looks forward to hosting similar events in the future to continue promoting dialogue and cooperation between the Church and society.
Welcome to CSB/JU Connections

The Angel of the North is a striking new landmark in the world of art and architecture. Located in the northeast corner of the United Kingdom, this site is now home to the Gateshead Millennium Bridge, designed by British architect Norman Foster. The bridge connects the North and South sides of the river Tyne, and it is an impressive feat of engineering and design, both visually and functionally.

The bridge, which was opened in 2001, has become an iconic symbol of the city and a popular destination for visitors. It is formed of two arches, each 187 feet high, and a central roadway that spans the river. The structure is made of steel and glass, and it is designed to allow for easy pedestrian and vehicle access.

In addition to its functional purpose, the bridge is also a work of art, featuring stunning views of the city and surrounding landscape. The surrounding area is filled with parks, gardens, and other attractions, making it a popular destination for tourists and locals alike.

CSB/JU Connections is the official newsletter of the City of New York and the City of New Orleans. The newsletter aims to connect the two cities and their residents through cultural, educational, and community initiatives. It is published twice a year, and it features articles on various topics, including history, culture, and current events.

The newsletter is edited by the City of New York, and it is distributed to a wide audience, including residents of both cities and visitors to the area. It is available online, and it can also be found at various public libraries and community centers.

The Angel of the North is just one example of the many highlights of the City of New York and the City of New Orleans. Whether you are a resident or a visitor, there is always something to see and do in these two fascinating cities.

Gift funds First Gen program and endows management chair

A $3.35 million gift to SUNY from the estate of an SUN alumni will help fund a new program targeting first-generation students and also endow a chair in management.

The program, First Gen, aims to increase the number of first-generation students at SUNY’s flagship Ithaca campus and Schenectady County and by providing them with the academic and career support services they need to excel at SUNY.

Ralph Gross ’71 graduated from SUNY with a degree in economics. After graduate study, he became a CPA and later became owner of a successful plumbing supply business in the Thousand Islands

From his donations, $1.2 million has been designated as the Ralph Gross Scholarship Fund for first-generation college students. The remaining $1.1 million will be used to create the Ralph Gross Chair in Management in honor of a senior professor in the management department.

In: Bob Kruesi, SUNY provost, expressed his gratitude for the gift.

"It is absolutely delighted to be that Ralph's family recommended that State Tech's dedication his estate for these two important purposes," he said. "In such instances, Ralph's gift will enable State Tech to address a strategic priority or State Tech, and it will help us transform lives through the power of education."

First Gen begins in January with a $1.5 million grant from the New York Foundation. An additional $2.5 million has been raised toward a goal of $3 million.
